History Is Worth

Remembering Always

Charlean Moss Williams, Hempstead county historian who did the Washington section for us in The Star's 1936 Arkansas Centennial Edition, writes me a letter from El Dorado where she now lives.

She encloses a clipping from the Arkansas Democrat of May 31 reporting on the Ashley County Wildlife association's plans for a state park near Hamburg, and says in her letter:

"Why can't Hempstead county have a state park?"

"I also read the article 'Bullets Still Fly Over Old Ferry Battlefield,' on page 4 of Sunday's Democrat (magazine section), which seems to be copied from my book 'The Old Town Speaks,' page 79 . . .

"Strange these 'eye witnesses' have waited this long to tell of these battles. Little Rock will not do anything for Hempstead county but never misses a chance to put Hempstead's prestige somewhere else. Can't you suggest something to combat this sort of propaganda and let us hold what we have?"

"I wish you would start a magazine section in The Star. I have access to two bound files of the Washington Telegraph which we can use besides what's in my book. You know the public likes to read new 'old news,' and we have the first and best historically. Please think about this seriously."

Replying categorically — I believe Hempstead county already has under way the sort of state park now being planned in Ashley county. The State Game & Fish Commission is laying out Bois d'Arc creek public game preserve which will be open in season to all comers — a fine public service for this section.

What Mrs. Williams writes about Little Rock's pirating of local history is all too true. However, she herself has done a stalwart job in mailing down credit in print for the events properly belonging to our section.

When The Star issued its 48-page Arkansas Centennial Edition June 26, 1936, it carried a vast amount of original manuscript material concerning the original Hempstead county, which embraced all of southwest Arkansas. Mrs. Williams wrote the 8-page Washington and present-Hempstead-county section. Randolph Hamby authored the Nevada county 8-page section, and this writer, and his staff combed old family records for the stories which filled the rest of that big paper.

Among other things, I recall that we dug up the names of 12 steamboats which in the last century plied the Red river route from New Orleans and Shreveport up to Fulton, the head of navigation. Librarians all over America, including the head librarian at the Alamo, Austin, Texas, wrote me that our Arkansas Centennial was one of the best newspaper historical editions they had ever read. Which was high praise — even though one young Star reader called me up the day of issue and complained, "You left the comics out!" I did, for a fact — comics didn't strike me as seemly on a day when we were commemorating the birth and life-story of the section in which we live.

How to perpetuate our section's claim to great events of the past? Well, we ought to set up a sectional map of historical highway trails, with markers at spots of interest, just the way Virginia has marked her Shenandoah Valley highway, U. S. 11. Such a map would include the area from Camden to Prescott, Hope, Fulton, Nashville, and into the mountain area to the north. We could tie this into transcontinental traffic by arrangement with Texarkana — for tourists are always seeking interesting side-trips.

This is something we should work for in the future. The old history-laden town of Washington can't do it alone. A whole section has to co-operate.

New Farms Can Get Wheat Acreage

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1951, 1952, and 1953 may apply for a 1954 wheat acreage allotment, according to H. B. Gilbert, Chairman of the Hempstead County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county PMA committee by June 30, 1953.

Blank application forms are available at the county PMA office for use in filling requests for allotments.

Most Powerful Atomic Blast Set Off Today

Flash Seen in All Western United States

By ROBERT BENNYHO

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP) — The most powerful atomic bomb ever set off in the United States burst with the brilliance of a giant sun in the "pre-dawn" darkness today, lighting the Western sky from Canada to Mexico and from the Golden Gate to Colorado.

The tremendous explosion, possibly two and one-half times as strong as the A-bombs of World War II, concluded the Atomic Energy Commission's spring test series.

The AEC would not disclose officially just how strong the bomb was but it was known to pack the explosive punch of more than 40,000 tons of TNT, and possibly as much as 50,000 tons. The bombs used in World War II and the Bikini tests equaled only 20,000 tons.

The brilliant flash was seen in southern Canada and deep in Mexico. From Mexico, an observer said the flash "seemed to come from all over the sky."

A patrolman at Ogden, Utah, said, "You couldn't miss it. It was like a giant sun."

The shock of the 4:15 a. m. PDT explosion rattled windows in Los Angeles, and hit Modesto, Calif.

Only One Point Retaken in Bloody Fighting

By FORREST EDWARDS

SEOUL (AP) — Chinese and North Korean Reds today sledgehammered back in bloody hand-to-hand fighting all but one of seven South Korean counterattacks for key Allied hill positions captured by the Communists.

Units of four ROK divisions smashed against Chinese clinging to five outposts on Finger and Bloody Ridges on the East-Central Front and North Koreans on positions of Luke, the Gook's Castle and Anchor Hill in the East.

One outpost was recaptured on Bloody Ridge.

All other counterattacks were hurled back, and at Luke's Castle and Anchor Ridge North Koreans wound up a day of bitter close-quarter fighting in better positions than before.

The U. N. Command said two beefed-up Chinese battalions — perhaps 2,500 men — smashed into South Koreans who captured one outpost on Finger Ridge and drove the ROKs off again.

North Koreans wrested the crest of Anchor Hill from ROK infantrymen who drove the Reds off the hill earlier in the day. An Eighth Army briefing officer said that at dusk Communist and South Korean troops faced each other from opposite sides of the dish shaped crest.

Counterattacking South Koreans of the 12th Division lost a ditched ground in desperate see-saw fighting for Luke's Castle. There ROKs who drove the Reds back late Wednesday were driven back further than before by a smashing Communist counterattack.

At last report, the North Koreans held about half of the intricate Castle defenses.

Allied warplanes flew scores of missions again today in close support of troops on the battle lines.

During the night U. S. Superbombs hit the battlefield with their biggest assault in nearly a year. Nineteen B29s unloaded 400 tons of bombs on Red targets between Chorwon and Kunhwa in the front Triangle sector of the Central Front.

Motorist Could Lose Right to Operate Car

LITTLE ROCK — The Department of Revenue wishes to remind Arkansas motorists that under the new Financial Responsibility Law their licenses to own or operate a motor vehicle will be suspended if they are involved in a traffic accident and fail to meet the security requirements for damage claimed. The security required under the new law may be as low as $101 or as high as $11,000.

The driver of every motor vehicle that is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to any person or property damage in excess of $100 must file a new accident report with the Department of Revenue within 30 days after the accident. This report is mandatory regardless of who was at fault. The new law does not in any way, however, change the existing statutory requirement that another accident report be made out and filed with the Arkansas State Police within 48 hours.

If a driver is covered by automobile liability insurance at the time of the accident, he will still be required to make out the report and file it with the Revenue Department; however, if he submits proof of such insurance with the report, his license will not be suspended. He must deposit with the Department of Revenue, with the report, a sum of money to cover the damage done to the other vehicle, or to persons involved in the accident. His security must be deposited with the Department of Revenue within 10 days of the issuance of such notice. Failure to deposit security will result in the revocation of the operator's license, license plates and registration certificate.

The deposit of security is not necessary under the following circumstances: If the person receiving such a notice deposits with the Department a release of liability by all parties involved, final adjudication in a court of competent jurisdiction that he is not liable or a duly acknowledged written agreement to pay damage claims. Failure to deposit security or forward proof of one of the alternatives just mentioned will result in the suspension of the motorist's operator's license, registration certificate and license plates.

Taft Claims Words Were Misinterpreted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today it is "silly" to permit India and other members of the United Nations who claim they are neutral in the Korean War to influence peace terms.

The Senate GOP leader made this comment to reports in talking about his May 26 discussion of Korean policy to which President Eisenhower took exception.

Taft indicated he feels there has been some misunderstanding of his views and said he did not believe the United States should "go it alone."

He talked with reporters at the Capitol soon after attending a White House conference of legislative leaders.

He said there was no discussion at the White House, however, of his views on Far Eastern policies or the President's comments about them.

Taft had said earlier that he did not use the words "go it alone" in his May 26 discussion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who underwent treatment in Cincinnati for a painful hip ailment, appeared in the Senate yesterday for the first time since his hospitalization. He was on crutches.

Russia in New Bid for Thousands

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Russia is making a new bid to entice thousands of normally pro-Western and anti-Communist Austrian workers to visit the Soviet Union, it was disclosed here today. So far, however, the invitation is being generally ignored.

Practically every Austrian shop steward there are 47,000 of them, mostly anti-Red Socialists—recently received invitations to apply for Russian visas. So did hundreds of other persons of both left and right-wing political views who have connections with the Austrian labor movement.

Profits Tax Extension May Excite Payers

By STERLING C. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said today a tax cut for some 50 million individual taxpayers scheduled next Jan. 1 would be "very doubtful" if Congress fails to extend the excess profits tax.

Martin told a news conference the scheduled 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes "goes right along together" with President Eisenhower's request for continuation of the excess profits levy, now due to expire at the end of this month.

The speaker repeated a prediction that Congress will keep the excess profits tax in force until Dec. 31, despite strong opposition by some influential Congress members.

Present laws call for a 10 per cent reduction in personal income tax rates beginning with 1954. The administration has said it "definitely" plans to let this reduction take effect as scheduled.

But Martin declared, "If the excess profits tax is not extended, it is very doubtful if financial conditions would be such as to warrant individual tax reductions."

"They go along together. Certainly an extension would be very helpful in getting the individual reduction. That would make it almost a certainty."

Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the tax-framing committee promptly disputed Martin's prediction, however, in this statement:

"Appraisal of Speaker Martin's statement, Mr. Reed issued a flat denial that his committee favors the excess profits tax or that it intends to change its stand opposing its extension."

Million Broilers Placed on Market

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Arkansas hatcheries and dealers placed 1,034,000 broiler chicks with producers in the northwest area during the week ended last Saturday, according to the Crop Reporting Service.

This was a decrease of one per cent from the previous week. Of the total placements, 734,000 chicks were hatched in the area and 300,000 shipped in from other states.

A total of 117,000 chicks was shipped out of the area.

Eggs set during the week were down one per cent from the week before, the service reported.

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower inaugurated a new era of presidential contact with the people last night — pledging on a "family circle" telecast there would be no appeasement of communism and "no risk of a general war."

Surrounded by four members of his official family, and inviting his millions of television watchers to think of themselves as "fellow-dwellers in 'the national house,'" Eisenhower gave these assurances in a precedent-setting White House report to the nation:

"We are going to keep our temper; we are going to build our strength."

"We are not going to eriplo this nation and we are going specifically to keep up its air power."

"Our effort is to secure peace—and prosperity for peace."

So, in easy conversational style, and passing the ball repeatedly to his Cabinet aides, Eisenhower put head on the accusations about his Congress only a few hours before that his Air Force budget cuts are impairing the nation's security.

He did more than that: By introducing the TV presidential plan of program, with free technical advice from some of the highest priced advertising experts in the business, he gave a new dimension to the "fireside chat" invented by Franklin D. Roosevelt and adapted for radio and television now and then, by Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower's audience, estimated at 100 million, was estimated.

Favors Test for Cigarette Smokers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — A safety test for cigarette smokers before they take anesthetics for operations was recommended today to the American Medical Association convention.

The test is to cough, to make sure the breathing airways are clear. Or, for heavy smokers, to keep coughing until they are clear.

The test, and reason for it, were described by Dr. Barnett A. Greene and Dr. S. Berkowitz of Brooklyn.

Smoking, and especially the inhaling of cigarette smoke, is a main cause of bronchitis, or inflammation of the breathing airways, they said. Smoking is four to seven times more common cause of bronchitis than anything else, including various infections.

The bronchitis can lead to numerous complications during or after taking of anesthetics, even those given by vein and not breathed in, like ether, Greene said. Sometimes, it can cause death, due to phlegm blocking the breathing tubes.

Observers Feel Korean Peace Awfully Close

By LEROY HANSEN

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Friday (UP) — Communist armistice negotiators gave the United Nations a formal counter-proposal for ending the Korean war "extraordinarily" close to the latest Allied plan, a source close to the U. N. troops team said today.

At major points in the Red proposal were identical to those in the "final" U. N. offer for compromising the prison of war issue which had deadlocked the truce negotiations, the source said.

The Communist counter-proposal read to Allied representatives at a secret session yesterday, apparently brought peace in Korea closer than it has been since truce talks opened nearly two years ago.

Only the actual wording of the lengthy Red plan differed from the U. N. proposal, the source said.

Immediately after the meeting, the U. N. called for a one-day recess and the Red reply was rushed to Washington.

The source, who could not be identified, said the Communist plan "plagiarized" the U. N. proposal of May 25. It "virtually agreed" with the Allied plan with differences only in "amendments on wording."

Terms of the U. N. proposal, disclosed officially, call for a 5,000, and 10,000 "neutral troops" to take custody of North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return home at six points in South Korea the source said.

South Korean leaders have protested such a plan, especially the bringing in of troops from Communist satellites. ROK truce negotiators have boycotted the armistice meetings, and were not present at the last session.

The Reds had no quarrel with "detailed technical methods" as to how neutral nations would take custody of prisoners refusing repatriation, the source said.

Although he refused to give complete details of the Red counter-proposal, the source's statements were interpreted to mean the Communists finally had accepted the Allied demand that the United Nations general assembly determine final disposition of prisoners.

Vandenberg Says Airforce 'Second Best'

By JOHN A. GOLDBMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg said today that the United States possesses only a "second best" Air Force.

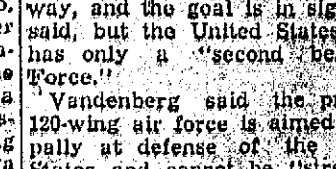

The outgoing Air Chief of Staff added that efforts to build a 144-wing air force "which he has said is the minimum this country must have to cope with Russia" may be wasted if Congress goes along with budget cuts prevailing only 120-wing "interim" force.

Vandenberg, continuing his attack on the administration's Air Force budget cuts, told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the 143-wing goal could almost have been reached by now if planning had started in 1945.

"Now we are two-thirds of the way, and the goal is in sight," he said, but the United States still has only a "second best Air Force."

Vandenberg said the proposed 120-wing air force is aimed principally at defense of the United States and cannot be "stretched" to provide help for NATO allies. He said the old 143-wing goal was into consideration the North Atlantic treaty defense force.

refusing to return to their Red homeland.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist and United Nations commands were reported today to be "very close" to agreement on a Korean War armistice.

Officially, there was the closest secrecy but it was clear that in high quarters of the government there was very strong confidence that agreement on a truce was at hand.

There was a notable increase of optimism among officials and some indication the latest Red proposal could be considered as a virtual acceptance of the U. N. proposal of 10 days ago.

According to this interpretation, the only matters left to be negotiated are relatively minor differences.

The Red reply to the U. N. plan for dealing with the deadlock over disposition of prisoners of war was received by the government this morning. The Reds presented it to the U. N. command at Panmunjom last night, Washington time. Official secrecy covered reaction

News Briefs

CAMDEN (UP) — A 60-year-old Texas architect died here today from injuries received when his car collided with a Missouri Pacific freight train last night.

He was John Brown, who had been working here since September, 1932, as architectural superintendent of the new Junior High-Elementary School.

Brown had been sent here by the Herbert Voelcker architect firm of Houston, Texas.

The accident occurred only a few yards from the school project. Police said he apparently was blinded by the sun and did not see the train.

PINE BLUFF (UP) — State Rep. Lawrence Dawson said today he will introduce a bill to abolish the death penalty in the next session of the Arkansas Legislature.

The Pine Bluff attorney made the statement in connection with Gov. Francis Cherry's remark yesterday that he opposed capital punishment and would support a bill to abolish it.

"Had I know my bill would have received the support of the governor," Dawson said, "I would have introduced it at the last session of the Legislature."

Dawson's bill would end what he termed "legal murder" and provide for life imprisonment for all present capital case convictions. The bill would make a death sentence mandatory, however, for a criminal who is convicted a second time for a capital offense.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Gov. Francis Cherry told members of Arkansas Boys' State here today that he has no ambitions "at the present time" to run for any congressional post and that he "definitely will never run for a third term as governor."

Cherry subjected himself to a repeat performance of his radio "talkathon" permitting boys in the audience of more than 300 to ask him searching questions about state government. When asked if he would run for a third term, Cherry replied:

"I've never said I would even run for a second term yet, and the answer is no. I definitely will never seek a third term as governor."

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Army today announced a major revision of its college Reserve Officer Training Corps program to achieve "significant" savings in personnel, equipment, and money.

The new program strikes hard at 49 military junior colleges and military institutes by eliminating them from the college ROTC plan.

Annie Hoover Circle Presents Program to WMS

The "Values in Christian Education" was the theme of the WMS program presented Monday afternoon in a most interesting way by the Annie Hoover Circle of the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Royce Smith, program leader, using high school and college students on the program.

Printed programs with a picture of a graduate were handed out by the leader, Mrs. John Owen gave an inspiring devotional. As a special number, Thalia Chism sang "It's Real."

Jan Moses, as a high school graduate, gave the part of "What Next?" "Does my denomination provide a college where I can learn and grow and climb and reach and seek and find God's purposes in my life?"

These questions were answered by Mr. Earl Bailey, Rev. S. A. Whitlow, Mrs. Harold Porterfield and Mrs. Basil York.

The question "In What Specific Way is the Student Touched by These Christian Influences?" was answered by Betty Owen, Wanzelle Nix, Jo Ann Ensminger, Mary Lou and Ruby Sue Cornelius.

Mrs. S. A. Whitlow answered the question, "How we as parents and leaders can influence our young people to choose the Christian college enthusiastically?" The closing meditation "God's Will" was given by Mrs. Jewel W. Moore, Jr., a graduate of Ouachita College, who used as a means of stressing her thoughts, her diploma, scrapbook, annual, Bible, and also an oil painting of the First Baptist — the artist a member of the WMS, Mrs. A. S. Willis.

Closing the program was the song "A Charge to Keep" followed by prayer by Mrs. Royce Smith.

The monthly business meeting preceded the program with Mrs. P. J. Holt, president, presiding. Monthly reports were made and plans for Vacation Bible School completed. Mrs. Jim Atchison gave the devotional thoughts at the business meeting.

Miss Glenna Wade Weds
William Charles Wilson
Miss Glenna Mae Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnett N. Wade of Quinlan, Texas, became the bride of William Charles Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wilson of Hope, on Friday evening, May 29, at 7:30 in the First Methodist Church of Quinlan.

Reverend Joe Phillips, pastor, read the impressive double ring ceremony before a large white tent crowded with guests. The bride wore a white gown with a train of white tulle and a long veil. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the pastor. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents. The wedding was a private affair.

Mrs. Robert Lytal, pianist, Jerry Chandler, and Miss Mary Jane Hodges, vocalists, provided a program of nuptial music. Mr. Chandler sang "Because" by D'Hardot and Miss Hodges' pre-nuptial solo was "Indian Love Call." Mrs. Lytal used Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus as the precessional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. The couple knelt on a white satin covered prie-dieu for the benediction as Mr. Chandler sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a floor length gown of imported French tulle with a long veil. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the pastor. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents. The wedding was a private affair. The bride wore a white gown with a train of white tulle and a long veil. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the pastor. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents.

This was also the 23rd wedding anniversary of the bride's parents who were united in marriage on May 29, 1930.

Miss Jo Wanda Miller of Quinlan, maid of honor, wore a blue nylon tulle with satin bodice and bolero covered with satin streamers and pleated tulle ruffles. A wide sash tied with a bustle bow in the back complimented the ensemble. She wore a halo of gold lace in her hair and carried a powder puff bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. Joe Horn of Dallas wore a yellow frock and Miss Jane Combs of Graham wore a rose colored gown fashioned on identical lines to that of the honor attendant. Their flowers were blue and pink carnations.

Miss Sandra Lynn Henderson of Quinlan, junior bridesmaid, wore a blue nylon tulle over taffeta trimmed with tulle ruffles. Her flowers were of pink carnations. Linda Lou Barrow of Quinlan was flower girl and was dressed in a white organza frock with a tucked yoke outlined with insertion and lace. Lace scallops on the skirt were centered with flower rosettes.

Joe Harve Davis, ring bearer, was dressed in a white linen suit with black bow tie and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

James McCargo of Hope served Mr. Wilson as best man. Other attendants were Hobart Lytal of Quinlan and Ray Skidmore of Emory.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The entertaining rooms were decorated in bowls and baskets of white carnations, gladioli, and calla lilies.

The bride's table was overlaid in an imported Italian lace and cut work cover and held an arrangement of white carnations and daisies. The stem of an old fashioned cake stand held a pyramid arrangement of white carnations and daisies were floated at the base. The three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and garlanded with fern and white roses was embellished with wedding bells. An antique crystal punch service was placed at the opposite end.

Miss Thelma Combs of Cooper presided at the cake. Mrs. S. E. Wade and Mrs. J. M. Allen of Greenville were at the punch bowl. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Hobart Lytal of Quinlan, Peggy Fletcher of Emory and Miss Nola-gene Schimpfening of Commerce. Mrs. J. D. Williams secured the names for the bride's book.

Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Wilson, members of the wedding party, and Mrs. C. P. Combs. Grandmother of the bride, assisting in the gift, were Mrs. L. M. Combs of Whitesboro, Mrs. Hat Decker and Mrs. Wayne Henderson of Quinlan.

Mrs. Wade chose for her daughter's wedding a navy crepe frock with white hat trimmed in pearls and rhinestones. She wore a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the groom, was attired in a tucked navy sheer dress with a powder blue hat and gloves with other accessories in navy. Her flowers were of white gardenias.

Mrs. Wilson was wearing a green Italian silk shantung suit with white accessories and white orchid corsage when she and Mr. Wilson left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

They will make their home in Commerce, Texas.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Kathryn Lauterbach, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wilson and James McCargo of Hope, Arkansas; Miss Jane Combs of Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horn of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thunderstorms Hit Wide Area

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms and rain hit areas in the Midwest and Northern Rockies today but generally fair weather prevailed in most other sections.

More rain in Northwestern Montana heightened the flood threat as rain-swollen streams reached flood stage. At least 113 families in the area east of the Continental Divide have been forced from their homes. In West Great Falls, parts of a 6 by 13 block district were under three inches to three feet of water.

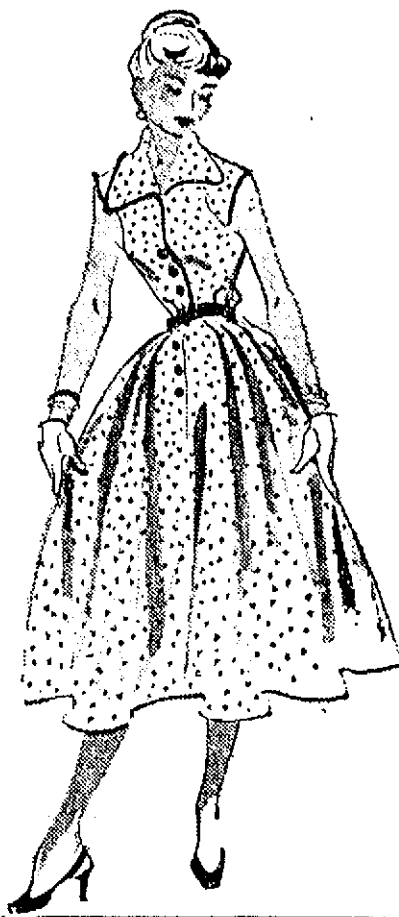

Other wet spots early today were at Miami, Fla., which reported light rain, and the Great Lakes region, hit by thunderstorms and showers.

Ike Taking Up Where FDR Left Off

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower is picking up where President Roosevelt left off in taking his case directly to the people.

"Papa's here and everything will be all right" was the impression Roosevelt brought to give when he took to the radio. He was always relaxed, like a man whose problems, if any, had been trained to lie down and roll over.

For Roosevelt, the radio was a wonderful instrument not only for getting his ideas across to the nation but for creating public confidence in him and his administration. It helped elect him four times. No wonder he used it.

He read well and he had a warm voice. They were great assets. He read so well that, behind the mask of the radio, you weren't conscious he was reading at all. He used all the devices of good talking: seriousness, gaiety, sarcasm, humor, figures of speech.

Roosevelt probably would have been equally successful on television but for the development, nationwide, was after his time. President Truman never learned to read aloud with ease. He lacks of the advanced sense of rhythm. It was one of Truman's first handlings. He was at his best talking off the cuff in the heat of a campaign, without a script.

There was a refreshing crispness and even a reassuring earnestness about his voice on the radio. But he was never at ease, reading. His inflections were stilted and self-conscious. As if someone had mangled his text. "Emphasize this."

Even though he spoke behind the faceless radio, anyone listening soon realized Truman was reading, and sometimes he sounded as if he was reading it for the first time.

TV was in swaddling clothes at the start of Truman's administration in 1945. By the time he left the White House in 1952 TV had grown up and was the center of attention in living rooms from coast to coast.

Truman may explain in his memoirs why he didn't use TV and radio more, particularly in the last two years when he and his administration were under fiery criticism.

It is possible he might have turned the tide against his foes if he had gone repeatedly to the people, face to face on TV, to explain his case as he saw it, just as Roosevelt did on radio.

It was obvious, from a political standpoint, he was missing a bet in not using the airwaves more. Eisenhower and his advisers could not help being aware of this.

Judging from what he has done in the past two weeks, Eisenhower probably will use radio and TV to the fullest advantage.

He made a nation-wide radio talk May 10 to explain one of the secret pills the public ever has to swallow: why there shouldn't be a tax cut now. He read that talk.

Last night on TV he talked without visible script but, not without help. That was a carefully prepared program, rehearsed, and using modern TV techniques. It amounted to a production.

Eisenhower doesn't read as well as Roosevelt. He's stiffer and more self-conscious, more like Truman. And he's not as relaxed as Roosevelt or, perhaps, Truman, when he's talking off the cuff with a rumble that one radio announcer said "sounded like someone trying to break down the front door with a sledgehammer."

"A severe jar of air" joined Western Pacific Railroad installations along the Feather River canyon, and maintenance men were dispatched to check for possible slides. They found none, however.

The AEC acknowledged that one of the Air Force's intercontinental B-36 bombers, the first plane designed specifically as an atomic bomber, dropped today's bomb "from a high altitude."

It was the first announced use of a B-36 in any atomic test.

The high-flying bomber dropped its weapon, twice as strong as the "model T" A-bombs that devastated Nagasaki and Hiroshima in World War II, at 4:15 a. m. PDT, fused to explode 2,000 feet above the Yucca Flat Proving Ground.

Thirty-five minutes earlier, a B-50 bomber dropped conventional explosive bombs to enable AEC scientists to forecast effects of the blast.

So successful were they in predicting wind and weather conditions that, despite the size of the explosion, it was neither heard nor felt in Las Vegas, only 65 miles from the proving ground.

Observers said it was the most brilliant they had seen, however. For the first time, one Las Vegas resident said he was blinded temporarily. Another, W. Donley Lukens, said he could read his watch by the light of the blast for a minute and 22 seconds.

From Mt. Charleston, a 9,000-foot vantage point 35 miles from Yucca Flat, the blast appeared to be by far the largest ever set off in the U. S. The tremendous fireball churned and ballooned a fiery mass for 40 seconds before it started to rise in the mushroom cloud.

It could be seen, still glowing and flaming, for another two minutes and 20 seconds as it rose in the zooming cloud, which shot swiftly to a height of 40,000 feet. For the first time, scattered brush fires were set on the floor of Yucca Flat in the sagebrush, greasewood and Joshua trees dotting the desert 2,000 feet beneath where the bomb exploded. The fires still burned 10 minutes later.

The brilliant flash was seen over all the Western United States.

consideration. The fine imposed is the maximum for contempt of Congress. The maximum jail term is one year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whether Washington wirepuller Henry W. Grunewald must go to jail for contempt of Congress hinged on a doctor's report on his physical condition due to be filed today.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff served notice on Grunewald a week ago that he will go to jail unless a court-designated doctor says it would endanger his health and life.

Judge Holtzoff then directed that Dr. Bernard J. Walsh, a heart specialist, examine the 61-year-old "mystery man."

Dr. Walsh examined Grunewald last March when he was seeking a continuance of his trial. He said then Grunewald was healthy enough to stand trial, whereupon of 31 contempt of Congress charges against him. The government dropped the others.

without notes and without rehearsal.

He's more intense than either of them. And sometimes, as anyone who has watched him at a completely unhearsed news conference knows, he often sounds like a man in a verbal hurry.

Since this country faces difficult days, at least in foreign affairs, when there may be more international heat than light, Eisenhower will probably use the airwaves with fair regularity.

Yanks Give Rest of Loop Warning

By BEN PHEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the rest of the American League doesn't run for cover now
it won't be the fault of the New York Yankees.

The other seven clubs have been warned — in the boldest possible
terms — that the Yanks are dead-serious about winning their fifth straight pennant and woe unto anyone brash enough to oppose them.

The doubters can examine the main body of the Chicago White Sox.
The Sox and Cleveland were the presumed choices to stop the Yankees, if the Yankees could be stopped. The Indians folded at the mere sight of the Bronx Bombers but the White Sox, after losing their first encounter, bounced back to win four in a row from the New Yorkers — a serious mistake.

Vows were vowed, slights were set and when the champs roared into the Windy City Tuesday for a three-game series they were ready to make immediate amends. They did.

Tuesday night they stopped the Sox, 4-3. Yesterday they trampled all over them, 10-2, in the biggest out of the season in either league.
Four Chicago pitchers were mauled for 19 hits and the New Yorkers benefited from nine bases on balls, a hit batter and three White Sox errors.

Riding a six-game winning streak and holding a fat 5-game edge over the runner-up Indians,
the Yankees wind up their movement in Chicago today and move on to St. Louis for four games.

The Indians slipped another full notch back last night when Boston came up with three runs in the top of the ninth for a 4-3 decision.

The Philadelphia Athletics at St. Louis, 3-2, in 10 innings in the 10-7, dropping the Tigers 20 games behind New York. Washington beat Milwaukee made it two straight over American League game.

The Philadelphia Phillies split a twilight-night double-header with the St. Louis Cardinals, winning the second game, 6-5, and losing the opener, 5-3. The New York Giants trounced Cincinnati, 11-3, and Pittsburgh moved into sixth place with a 1-0 decision over Chicago.

The Red Sox victory over Cleveland broke their four-game losing streak. Trailing by two at the start of the ninth Boston put together a pair of singles with a double by George Kell for one run and picked up two more on Sam White's single.

Slugging Gus Zernial paced the Philadelphia attack at Detroit with a pair of home runs, raising his season's total to 11, and five runs batted in. The Tigers haven't won a game in their last 10 starts.

Walter Masterson, who was supposed to pitch tonight for Washington came on in the ninth in St. Louis and became the winning pitcher in the 10th when his mates scored on two singles and a stolen base. The loser was Satchel Paige.

The Milwaukee-Brooklyn melée saw 11 pitchers in action with the hitters treating almost all of them like batting-practice tossers. The Dodgers blew two and five-run leads and after they got back in the running in the seventh they couldn't find a hurler to halt the blasting Braves. Andy Pafko and Jim Pendleton, both peddled by Brooklyn during the interim because the Dodgers had no use for them, homered as Milwaukee scored five runs in the eighth.

The Cardinals managed only six hits off Curt Simmons and two successors in the first game at Philadelphia but the blows included
home runs by Steve Bilko and Rip Repulski plus a triple by Repulski
and a double by Del Rice.

In the nightcap Connie Ryan singled home Tommy Glaviano with the winning run in the eighth after Glaviano had tripled.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Ben Hogan the greatest golfer the world has ever seen? The below stairs debate on the topic is brought into the parlor today by no less august a medium than the U. S. Golf Association Journal, whose June issue features an article by Herbert Warren Wind entitled "How Great is Ben Hogan?"

It has not been popular in some circles to suggest that the amazing Texan has proved himself a finer, more consistent shotmaker than was Bobby Jones, the wonderful Georgian. Wind, author of "The Story of American Golf," sticks his neck out, in part, as follows:

"Not for a very long time — perhaps not since Jones won them
all in 1930 — has a performance by a golfer excited the admiration of the game's insiders as did Hogan's four rounds over the Austalia National last April when he lowered the Masters record by five strokes simply by not playing one loose shot in 274."

"It is certainly understandable
if, since Augusta, a number of reliable critics have decided that Ben is, without any qualifications whatever, the greatest golfer who ever lived. Perhaps it would be fairer to put it this way: in the long history of golf, there probably never has been a better golfer
than Ben Hogan."

"This disposition to elevate Hogan to a status comparable to that of Vardon and Jones is widespread but not by any means unanimous. The most interesting dissent comes from that band of traditionalists who claim they can not go along with such a rating until Ben wins a British Open and demonstrates he is equally a champion at 'that other kind of golf' — controlling the ball when the wind is ripping hard across a British links, with its snagger fairway lies, its rougher rough and its hard, unwatery greens.

"Whether or not you agree with this reasoning, the implicit suggestion that Ben take a crack at the British Open is one that, indeed, stirs the golfer's imagination. How would Ben, who has never played a competitive round in Britain,
make out in their Open?"

"The most provocative point they (the Hogan doubters) raise is based on the assumption that in very windy conditions Ben might be blown off the fairways and, on some courses be faced with the one shot he has apparently not mastered: the recovery from high,
tough grass."

"Hogwash," the Hogan can do it school answers. All Ben would need to make all the necessary adjustments he has always managed to modify his repertoire of shots to meet the different requirements of the courses selected for our major tournaments.

"Let us hope that one of these summers while he is at the top of his game Ben will arrange his schedule to include the British Open. If he did, it would be wonderful thing for international golf.
And, on the other hand, it would be a downright shame if a golfer of Ben's rare genius were to pass from the scene without taking at least one crack at the oldest of the great championships."

Last night Hogan disclosed he has cabled in his entry for the British because "so many people have been urging me to do so."
He added, however, that "there are some commitments I must get out of and I have to get a hotel reservation."

Man-Made Minnesota Fish
By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

We received an interesting letter
from John Hanley at Sheboygan, Wis., the other day, in which he describes three "muskie" he caught in the Chippewa Ploverage last fall. It seems the trio were bluish-silver in color, and as any amateur knows — muskies have distinctly dark bars or spots on their sides. These fish had none.
No doubt Hanley hasn't heard about the silver pike, which these fish very obviously were; in fact, a good many fresh-water addicts do not know that such a fish exists.

It is difficult to say just when this mutant of the great northern pike first appeared in Wisconsin and Minnesota waters, but the silver pike is there and flourishing.
These fish were taken in Lake Bell, at Nevis, Minn., in 1930. Later they were caught in other lakes of the chain and in the immediate region.
Since then silver pike have been taken in the Detroit Lakes (Minnesota) region and as far north as Lake County, in the Superior National Forest.

It has been definitely proven that a cross between the great northern and the muskellunge is possible, but that the result of this cross will not reproduce. The hybrid, or cross, is mottled, but retains the pike form. The silver pike, however, is without any spots, bars, or blotches, the coloration being bluish-gray. Many specimens are iridescent, and some are fleck-ed with gold. Specimens of the silver pike have been reared at the University of Minnesota up to the age of three years. Dr. Eddy has observed that apparently the variety breeds true, all the offspring are like the parents. When silver pike are crossed with the great northern pike, the resulting hybrids have a peculiar black mottling of the body.

Were it not for the fact that we knew about this fish when it was announced from Lake Bell, we would say that the fish was a product of the laboratories; but frogs would not breed true, and they would inevitably cross with the great northern pike. We do believe, however, that the spread of the fish has been through man's efforts.

Minnesota has been considering going into mass production of the silver pike, and there is every reason to believe that it will succeed.

Stevens Seeks 2nd Loop Win Here Friday

Hope's Legionnaires will be shooting for their second win of the week tomorrow night at Legion Field in Fair Park when they engage the Day & Zimmerman nine in a Southwest Arkansas Loop at-fair. Day & Zimmerman represents the Lone Star Ordnance Plant.

Danz Stevens last week winner
over Mineral Springs 3 to 2 in a 10-inning game will be on the pitching mound for Hope. Will Martin, regular catcher who missed
the plate replacing Horace Thomas, utility catcher. Thomas turned in an excellent game against the Texarkans last Tuesday and blasted a home run that added in the 12-11 victory over the Tonics.

The Legionnaires have won three games in league play to date with no setbacks thus far.

Game time is the usual eight o'clock.

Ike to Play Host to Sports Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — President
Eisenhower will play host tomorrow to sports figures ranging from Rocky Marciano to Clark Griffith.

Eisenhower will greet each of the 40-odd athletes, but it's a good bet he'll spend much of his time chatting with but one of the visitors, a fellow named Gene Sarazen.

Sarazen is the lone golfer on the guest list and the President's fondness for the fairways is well known.

The occasion for the get-together is the annual baseball game between the Republicans and the Democrats on Capitol Hill. Picked teams of players unlikely to break into the major leagues will have
at it at Griffith Stadium tomorrow night. Eisenhower will throw out the first pitch.

Before that moment, though,
there will be much hoopla and fanfare, starting with the White House luncheon.

The man who was to have been the honored guest won't be there.
Cy Young, who pitched more baseball victories than any other man,
first accepted an invitation but decided later he didn't feel up to making the trip. Cy is 80.

But baseball will be well represented, by such diamond greats as Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmy
Fox, Joe DiMaggio, Billy Werber
and Joe Judge. And, of course, Clark Griffith, the 83-year-old president of the Washington Senators.

Heavyweight Champion Rocky
Marciano will represent boxing.
His wife Barbara will be along,
decked out in a new hair-do.
Bangs, of course.

From the world of football
there'll be Slade Cutter, the one-time Navy star; Al Dorow, former quarterback at Michigan State,
and All-America quarterback Jack Scarback of Maryland.

Carol Ann Peters, the figure-skating champion, will be present along with former tennis champ
Pauline Betz Addie, diving star Z
Ann Jensen, and canoe champion
Frank Havens.

There'll be many others, including Andy Anderson of Houston, Tex., who sometimes is known as the world's No. 1 fisherman, and Edwin T. Chandler of Richmond,<

Sees Peace Chances as Very Good

NEW YORK, June 4 (INS)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said today that prospects for peace are "good and will remain so if the Allied nations refuse to allow Soviet Russia to disrupt their present unity."

The 54-year-old general, who next month takes over as Supreme Commander of the Allied powers in Europe, arrived in New York by air this morning from Paris to accept an honorary degree at Rutgers University.

In an interview at the airport, Gen. Gruenther attributed Russia's current peace offensive to its recognition that the North Atlantic Treaty organization is a success.

He asserted that NATO has made it evident to the leaders in Russia that it is capable of building up a military force that will "make aggression impossible."

Gen. Gruenther, now chief of staff of SHAPE, is slated to succeed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as the supreme commander in Europe next month when Ridgway becomes chief of staff, U.S. Army.

Gruenther told reporters he feels "highly honored" over his new position, once held by President Eisenhower.

"I believe," he declared, "that NATO is the most important project in the world today. I believe it is the greatest instrument for the preservation of world peace."

Gen. Gruenther said he is sure the nations of the free world have "enough sense" to know what they are trying to preserve, and that Russian moves to split the Allies will fail.

"We must maintain unity," he asserted. "We must not fight among ourselves."

He contended that the maintenance of unity will not be easy, stating that there will be "increasing strains" in the future but he added: "We have to work it out."

After visiting Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N.J., this evening, Gen. Gruenther will spend the night at West Point and tomorrow will fly to Washington to confer with defense department officials.

Gen. Gruenther plans to return to Paris by plane leaving New York Friday.

Two Valuable Metals Found in State

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Two metal elements valuable in defense production have been discovered in central Arkansas.

They are niobium and titanium. They were found in rocks and minerals in Magnet Cove and Potash Sulphur Springs.

The findings were announced by Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay who made public a report by the Geological Survey.

Niobium is used in the manufacture of high-temperature alloys for jets and titanium has military importance because of its light weight and great strength.

Hospital Director Found 'Clean'

HOT SPRINGS, June 3 (AP)—A 63-year-old Corning hospital director today was defended as "clean as a hound's tooth" against charges he is illegally licensed.

State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst labeled "persecution" the charges of "fraudulently and illegally" obtaining a medical license from the State Electric Board which were made by the Arkansas Medical Society.

His comment came in the wake of Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry's appointment of Little Rock Attorney Eugene Warren as a special assistant to investigate the charge.

Dr. Schirmer, who has been practicing medicine 50 years, recently donated the $400,000 Corning Research Hospital to the Church of God after he was converted to that faith.

Hurst, who is executive director of the Church of God's board of trustees in Arkansas, said he would represent the doctor in any legal action.

Hurst said that 75 per cent of the physicians in Dr. Schirmer's graduation class had obtained their licenses in the same manner he did.

Details of the charges by the AMS were not available.

Parole Chief Ball Fired by Board

LITTLE ROCK, June 3 (AP) — The State Parole Board today dismissed Parole Director W. P. Ball and designated Sam Cannon as Jonesboro, friend and fellow townsman of Gov. Cherry, to replace him.

The change is effective June 15. The board also announced that four of the six district parole supervisors would be replaced June 15.

L. L. Buchanan of Prescott will be succeeded by Guy H. Cummings of Stamps as supervisor in District No. 6.

John B. Neaville of Griffithville District 2, will be succeeded by Charles F. Kinzer of Forrest City. J. L. Pattillo of Pine Bluff, District 5, will be succeeded by William Nolin Jeffers of Crossett.

Joe D. Wells of Pocahontas, District 1, will be succeeded by Ed F. Edgington of Paragould. The shakeup will leave only two of the present district supervisors: C. C. Paul of Little Rock, District 4, who is also senior parole officer, and A. W. Clinton of Hot Springs, District 3. Clinton is father of Garland County Rep. Roy Clinton.

Hall will leave on the seventh anniversary of his appointment as parole director.

Before becoming director, Ball, who formerly lived at Nashville, Ark., had been a district supervisor for five years, and before that he was on the State Police for two years.

Ball smilingly refused to discuss the dismissal.

Cannon operated the Cannon Commission Company, a livestock agency, at Jonesboro for several years. Before that he was operator of a gasoline agency at Monette, near Jonesboro.

Since January, when Cherry became governor, Cannon has been employed here, successively by the Public Service Commission and the Resources and Development Commission.

Congress Approves Agri Revision

WASHINGTON, June 3 (INS) — Congress stamped final approval today on President Eisenhower's plan to reorganize the agriculture department and the proposal goes into effect Thursday.

The House followed previous Senate action in refusing to disapprove the plan. Any reorganization measure automatically becomes law unless rejected by either branch of Congress.

The House vote came on a motion by Rep. Fountain (D-N.C.) to discharge the former government operations committee from consideration of the proposal and bring it to the floor.

Fountain's motion was defeated 261 to 123. The presidential plan creates three new assistant secretaries of agriculture and transfers the agriculture secretary's control over various agencies within his department.

Democrats opposed the reorganization plan, charging that it is "a sweeping grant of power" to agriculture Secretary Benson and that Benson has never said what reorganizations he plans to take.

Chairman Hope (R-Kans.) of the House Agriculture Committee, led GOP support for the proposal. He said Benson ought to have "the same right" granted other department heads "to put his house in order."

Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.) former chairman and now top Democrat on Hope's committee, charged that the reorganization plan will "wreck havoc on the progress of the last 20 years."

The plan won Senate approval by a vote of 46 to 29 last week, despite heavy opposition led by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.).

Cooley charged the Republicans with reversing their campaign stand against a centralization of power in the agriculture department.

The North Carolinian said that the very groups which opposed a similar plan in 1950 supported reorganization in the Republican administration.

Criticizing Benson for failing to present Congress with a blueprint of his plans, Cooley said: "If he wants to do away with any part of the farm program, let him come in the front door instead of the back door."

Foreign Agricultural Service Director R. E. Short and Commodity Credit Corporation President John H. Davis are slated to become assistant secretaries. Richard E. Applin, now director of departmental administration, is expected to become administrative assistant secretary.

Benson and the Republican leadership in Congress claim that the new plan has certain safeguards which previous ones lacked, including a stipulation that the secretary must confer with Congress on major departmental changes.

Hearings Held to Modernize Wheat Plan

WASHINGTON, June 3 (INS) — Production and marketing administrator Howard H. Gordon will appear before Congress tomorrow to testify on a bill to "modernize" current wheat acreage allotment legislation.

The bill, introduced by chairman Hope (R-Kans.) of the house agriculture committee, would increase national wheat acreage from 55 million to 60 million acres and would increase penalties for farmers who fail to obey government marketing quotas.

The legislation comes as the agriculture department is preparing to impose acreage allotments and marketing quotas on 1954 crop wheat.

It has been estimated such controls would be necessary if the wheat supply this year totals more than one billion 243 million bushels and it is expected to hit one billion 600 million bushels.

Supporters of the Hope bill say the 60 million acres would nearly meet the nation's domestic and export requirements if yield is normal and keep a healthy reserve supply.

Gordon was non-committal today on his testimony. Although he admitted there are certain features about the Hope bill and about a similar bill introduced by Sen. Mundt (R-S.C.) that the administration does not care for.

The bill would allow farmers who violate government controls to collect a support price of only 40 per cent of parity rather than the 90 per cent of parity they normally receive. Kansas City, Mo., Camden, Mo., Broadcasting Corp., channel 14, fine is only 15 cents per bushel. Camden, S. C., Bartel Broadcasters, Inc., channel 18, Milwaukee, Wis.

State Police Sgt. Wyatt Patrick said N. O. Neelham, 36, of Jonesboro, was pronounced dead after being pulled from the car. It had come to rest upside down in a water-filled ditch.

Neelham's mother and sister, Mrs. Elmer Neelham and Mrs. Wanda Crooked, were killed on the same day in March.

Neelham was administered artificial respiration for an hour before a doctor pronounced him dead.

A woman passenger in the car, Peggy Sanson, of Jonesboro, who was not injured, said water almost immediately filled the overturned car. She said she tried to keep Neelham's head above water.

Sweden has about one bicycle for every two people.

TRUMAN, June 3 (AP) — An Air Force Sergeant was killed today when his car overturned 10 miles from where his mother and sister died in a traffic accident three months ago.
